

Bush is on his way out ... oh wait a minute... He still has months to attack another country – IRAN

We must ACT NOW to stop it!

Ominous new developments / Sudden new suspicious “evidence”

It was reminiscent of the build-up to the war on Iraq. Recently, the New York Times and other major U.S. media outlets pounced on references in a new report from the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) to 18 alleged secret documents, which the Times suggests shows that Iran had made significant advances towards developing a nuclear weapon before its program was ended in 2003.

Emboldened by this IAEA report, Condoleeza Rice then accused Iran of secretly pursuing nuclear weapons and opposed diplomatic talks with Iran. As Associated Press noted: “The Bush administration long claimed Iran was hiding a bomb program, a view shared by Israel and presumably the rationale for any military attack either country might launch against Iran. Rice’s words were striking because U.S. officials have backed off pointed accusations since the publication in December of a declassified intelligence report that concluded Iran once had an active warhead program but had shelved it in 2003.”

The primary source of these 18 alleged secret documents is the United States. Why should proven liars on Iraq now be trusted around Iran? Bush’s longtime former Press Secretary Scott McLellan’s memoir charges Bush with using a “political propaganda campaign” and “manipulating sources of public opinion” to prepare for Iraq war. The Center for Public Integrity documents 935 false statements by Bush and his seven top administration officials leading up to the Iraq war.

Who’s the real nuclear threat?

Not quoted in the major media is El Baradei’s statement given at the same time as the IAEA report was presented: “We haven’t seen indications or any concrete evidence that Iran is building nuclear weapons and I’ve been saying that consistently for the last five years.” Meanwhile, Jimmy Carter said last week that the U.S. has more than 12,000 nukes and Israel has 150 or more. The U.S. is the only country that has ever used nuclear weapons. The New York Times on June 2 expressed alarm about possible future capabilities of Iran’s missile program. Yet nothing is said about the intercontinental ballistic weapons that the U.S. already has, poised and ready to deliver nuclear weapons. Hillary Clinton threatened to use them to “obliterate Iran” and the remaining presidential candidates refuse to take the option of use of nuclear weapons against Iran “off the table”.

The danger of U.S. attack on Iran is growing – we must act now!

- Help organize major meeting on June 26, and city-wide coalition, against an attack on Iran.
- Organize educational events in your school, community or a “house party”, to discuss this growing danger, and make plans to respond. An organizing kit is being assembled for this, including a 10-minute preview version of forthcoming movie: Iran is Not the Problem.
- Help organize an emergency response network. With every step towards an attack, we must be immediately in the streets. Join in creating a text-message alert network to alert thousands to respond within hours.
